

SLI Chemicals GmbH
Partnership is in our nature.

What we offer.

You value
attractive offers
at fair prices.
We are your
specialists
in three strong segments.

SLI Chemicals has focused on three strong product segments: 1. raw materials for cosmetics and pharmaceuticals, 2. animal feed ingredients and additives, 3. food additives. In these areas, SLI Chemicals offers a broad product portfolio. Featuring classics as well as the newest trends, the range reflects our environmental awareness as well as our interest in organic products. Next to conventional raw materials, we are now increasingly supplying certified organic raw materials and will continue to extend our portfolio in line with market needs and growth potential this segment.

How we work.

You value
a cooperative
partnership.
We make sure
that you're
always completely
satisfied.

„Value for money” – that is the core of our corporate culture, the basis on which we work for our clients. And we are improving on it continuously. Creating the link between manufacturer and customer, we have positioned ourselves as technical consultants, service provider and your personal contact. We are continuously working on specific solutions for current market-driven developments. Thinking and acting in efficient, flexible and economic structures, we are always there when you need us. To further reduce costs, time and our carbon footprint, all our main products are constantly in stock at our Antwerp warehouse, enabling us further to efficiently combine orders into one delivery. Why not make all these advantages yours? We'd be happy to advise you – personally, individually and whenever you wish.

Who we are.

You value a strong partner for high-quality chemical raw materials. We value clients that work with us for exactly this reason.

Tell us quickly: as a purchaser of highly qualitative, low-priced raw materials, what do you value most? 1. high levels of quality, 2. punctual deliveries, 3. individual, personal service. As a high-performance and experienced commercial partner in the fine chemicals industry, we have been supporting our clients in Germany and Europe for over ten years. Based in Frankfurt am Main, one of the most important international transportation hubs and economic metropolises, we are able to always reach our clients quickly and directly as well as expand on our competitive position and optimise our performance continuously. For you, of course. Welcome to SLI Chemicals!
